Tentative educational programs at the new University school closely follow an original program of social and economic rehabilitation for large numbers of American people as outlined for President Roosevelt some months ago by Dr. John T. Jett, president of the University. Lectures and conferences will be joined with instruction in trades and crafts to form a program of supplementary education and present greater opportunities for Florida adults now suffering from conditions of illiteracy or underemployment. Courses in social service, home-making, music, dramatics, and art have been announced. Crafts training will include instruction in weaving, woodworking, carving, metal work, leather working and pottery.

Prevention and control of crime is aimed at by the school's offering of courses in a criminological institute for state police and local law enforcement officers.

An aviation ground school, with the cooperation of the State Road department and the educational department of the WPA, opened Monday. Approximately 50 students were enrolled for this three month course. Thursday a course of two weeks' instruction for recreational director and community drama leaders began under the direction of Mrs. Holla M. Boothworth. The school's facilities provided by 64 homes, of from three to seven rooms will provide a total dormitory capacity of 700 students. The educational and administrative staff is to number fifty.

Furnishings for the homes were prepared by WPA sewing and work rooms and additional furniture is being constructed on the site.

SPLENDID JOB BEING DONE BY HOUSING GROUP

State Leads All Others in Commitments for New Construction

That Florida is doing a splendid job of housing is indicated by the fact that the state is leading all others in commitments for new construction. The Housing Group, headed by Dr. F. A. # STAGE STRUCK AT Belle Glade On Sunday, Monday

"Stage Struck," heralded by First National as the gayest and snappiest of all its long list of musical comedies, came to the Everglades Theatre, in Belle Glade Sunday and Monday.

There is an all star cast, which includes Powell, Joan Boydell, Warren William, Frank McHugh, Jeanne Madden, and the Yacht Club Band. The production is a musical comedy in two acts, with a large number of supporting principal and hundreds of extras.

The picture is filmed on a lavish scale with spectacular music. Busby Berkeley directed the production. In addition to three spectacular chorus numbers, there is still another in which Powell sings "Fancy Dancin' You." His lady love, Jeanne Madden, in the New York Aquarium with all the pleasurable aggregation as listeners. This comedy musical is a production of "Your Own Quiet Way," sung by Powell and Miss Madden together, were specially for the production by the famous tunesmith, E. Y. Harburg and Harold Arlen.

The Yacht Club Boys also put on two hilarious numbers in which they cut their mad antics, and sing songs written by themselves, entitled "The Boy's Bouquet," and "The Income Tax."

Powell in the leading role has the part of a dance director who is driven to distraction by his star whom he can not discharge because her money backs the show. Joe Blum plays the part of the actress, who has gained notoriety and riches through many marriages and the shooting of her latest mate.

Miss Madden plays the part of a newcomer to Broadway, who is trying to crash into the show business, but is discouraged by Powell because he loves her and doesn't want her in that kind of life.

William has the role of a gay producer who resorts to psychology to control his temperamental star. He is played by Powell, who is a comedian and a dancer. He is a comedian and a dancer. He is a comedian and a dancer.

RECENT OPERATIONS

let a contract for two on the road before the end of the year.

Fred Cone is scheduled to be in the Lake region on October 22, according to a letter from State Democratic headquarters in Jacksonville. "I'm not sure yet just when I will speak at what time to give you the time and place. Our next governor is covering the state in an effort to work up enthusiasm among Democrats so that they'll go out and vote on November 3. If you didn't hear him when he made his rounds campaigning for office be sure and hear him on October 22."

Starling Clears—

Mr. Starling plans to try pepper, egg plant, snap green beans and lima during the season. In fact, he now has some acreage of each of these crops. He also has pepper, egg plant, and tomatoes, with squash almost ready to cut. His early string beans are abundant in growth. His son, Quentin H. Starling, is in charge of the farming operations, using a force of 75 negroes, all of whom are housed in quarters erected over the drainage ditches.

At present, all produce from the farms must be barged across the lake four miles. Mr. Starling has had a slip derrick at each end of the lake haul as a harbor and loading point for his boats. A long wharf makes loading and unloading easy and protects the operation from the rough water of the open lake.

The Seaboard Airline Railway is planning an 11-mile spur track to Mr. Starling's tract approaching it from the northeast side of the lake, and the state highway department is building a road from the southwest.

Trailway Promises—

his interest and aid in the project to have the road completed as soon as possible.

Other representatives of the Lake Okeechobee district joined with Broward county officials in endorsing recommendations of Dade county officials looking toward early completion of the road. E. R. Graham, state senator-elect from Dade county and former member of the state road department, suggested that funds be made available for the completion of the road from the Dade county line to 20-mile bend and from that point into Fort Lauderdale in order to open up additional farmland in Dade and Broward counties. He pointed out that the highway from Miami to the Dade county line is practically completed as a state highway without federal aid.

the leaders of the national attempt to promote the welfare and security of the American people. The purpose of Human Security week, explained Mr. Dunn, is to acquaint the people of Florida with the benefits which Florida may receive from the three public assistance acts of the National Social Security act.

"In order for Florida to receive more than $2,500,000 of federal money for a security program which will give assistance to 1,200 blind, 16,000 aged, and 20,000 dependent children in the state, a constitutional amendment must be ratified by the voters at the general election next month," Mr. Dunn said.

"This amendment was proposed by the last legislature and, if approved, will empower the legislature to appropriate funds for the purpose of public assistance," he said.

Before you pledge your support to any one who is rarin' to save the country you'd better find out for whom he wants to save it.—Jacksonville Journal.

WHY? DUST?

Sprayed Beans Will Give You Bigger Yields

Experience has demonstrated that the average acreage of beans sprayed with Sulfocide will yield as large a crop as two acres dusted with Sulfur, as it gives you more successful pickings. If you don't believe it—try it! Then you'll realize that no longer can you afford to seed, plant, cultivate, fertilize and dust two acres to save the spraying with Sulfocide on only one acre.

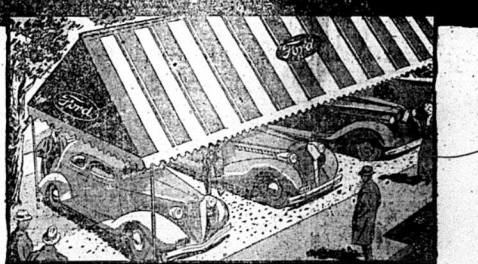

Commence spraying with Sulfocide 1 to 200, just as your beans come through the ground. Keep new growth covered and spray especially just after picking. Start spraying your tomatoes, peppers and egg plants in the seed bed.

The best dealers in Florida sell Sulfocide. It will pay you to insist on having it. Ask for helpful leaflet, "Sulfocide the Bean Spray."
